SHARP WATCH WILL BE KEPT ON MOTOR BOATS

Secretary Nagel Suggests a Fine of $100. for Violation of Law

Owners of motor boats found guilty of violations of the government regulations regarding life saving equipment and fire extinguishing appliances will be fined $100, if the suggestion of Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor is carried out. The secretary has notified Collector of the Port Sherman T. Newton and has issued instructions for rigid enforcement of the law. Secretary Nagel believes that since the owners of such craft have had two years in which to learn the laws the maximum penalty should be imposed. Heretofore violations of the rules have cost the owners from $1 to $5. The work of enforcing the laws will be carried on by the revenue tug Winnishmet and the cutter Gresham. The department may purchase a light draft motor boat for use in shallow waters. Collector Newton also hopes to minimize the nuisance of over crowding boats.

William D. Smith of Boston
Alleges Damages at $10,000.

Papers in a suit for $10,000 were served on Joseph Sacco on Tuesday and an attachment placed on his property by Samuel W. Emery, Jr., counsel for William D. Smith of Boston.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that he and the defendant entered into an agreement to bid for some contract work to be done at Phillips, Me., by the Maine Central railroad, and that instead Sacco put in a bid in his own name and after securing the contract, refused to let Smith in on the job.

The action is returnable at the October term of the superior court to be holden in this city.

CHIEF RANDALL WILL RECEIVE A GOLD BADGE

New England League Will Honor Former Presidents

The annual meeting of the New England League Veteran Firemen's association was held at Providence on Tuesday with a large attendance. For the first time in years none of the representatives had much anxiety for the big muster later in the season. There was some talk, however of holding it in Lowell, but labor troubles there made it uncertain at this date.

A committee of five was appointed to select some place for the meet and report later. During the meeting it was voted to present the past presidents of the organization with gold badges. Among those to receive the gift was Chief Engineer John D. Randall of this city, who held the office for several years. Horace W. Gray and Joseph W. Akerman, representing the Franklin Pierce association of this city, attended as delegates.

Prompt Action of His Brother Saves Life

Blackford M. Brooks, employed as a diver for the firm of Fitzgibbon & Dolan, who are constructing the quay wall extension at the navy yard had a narrow escape in his rig a few days ago while working in forty feet of water. The story is that a patch on the left sleeve of his suit gave way and the water was fast making its way inside of his rig when the signal was given to pull him to the surface. A brother of Brooks was attending to the signal ropes at the time and his quick action no doubt saved the diver from suffocation on the bottom of the river.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE AT YORK BEACH

Sea View Hotel on Long Beach, Two

stroyed---Loss $25,000

The most disastrous fire that has occurred at York Beach for many years broke out this Wednesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock in the stable on Long Beach, owned by S. P. Huntress of South Berwick.

The stable was situated in a very compact part of the beach and the flames quickly spread to the Sea View hotel, more familiarly known as Perkins' hotel, the second largest hotel at this portion of the beach.

An alarm was sounded and the York Beach fire department soon responded and did efficient work. On their arrival it was seen that the stable was doomed and they devoted their efforts to the saving of the hotel. A strong wind prevailed which fanned the flames and the fire was a hard one to fight.

At one time it looked as though the greater portion of this section of the beach was threatened with destruction, but the firemen kept bravely at their task and after five

BOARD OF HEALTH SERVE NOTICE ON CHARLES BADGER

Charles A. Badger, a well-known farmer residing on Woodbury avenue, has been summoned to appear in police court on Thursday by the Board of Health and answer to the charge of slaughtering cattle and maintaining a nuisance at his farm. Recently the Board of Health received complaints that Mr. Badger was maintaining a nuisance by allowing the entrails of slaughtered swine and cattle to lay around exposed, until the stench became unbearable. The members of the Board investigated the complaints and found that they were true and a warrant was issued calling him into court to answer to the charge of maintaining a nuisance.

SPRING MEETING OF STATE BOARD OF TRADE

Summer Outing Will Be Held at Rockingham
Park

The annual spring meeting of the New Hampshire Board of Trade was held at Exeter in the Probate court room on Tuesday. President Oliver H. Chase of Newport presided for the first time since his election. The Berlin Board of Trade was admitted to membership and the invitation of the Salem Board to the State Board to hold its summer outing at Rockingham Park was accepted.

Sec. H. H. Metcalf of Concord presented resolutions which were unanimously adopted for a World's Fair in Boston in 1920, commemorative of the landing of the Pilgrims 300 years ago. The New Hampshire board pledged its hearty support.

Hon. E. E. Reed of Manchester offered the following, which, after some discussion, was adopted without opposition:

"Resolved, That the New Hampshire Board of Trade is in favor of granting authority to the Southern New England Railroad Corporation to build across this state, so that the transcontinental system of the Grand Trunk railway may be completed and New Hampshire share the benefits which shall accrue from this new force in the industrial development of New England."

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, a public meeting was held, at which addresses were given by H. S. Percy Hooker, State Superintendent of Highways, on "Road Making and Maintenance," and by Hon. E. E. Reed of Manchester on the proposed agricultural fair at Rockingham Park next August, each address being followed by discussion.

WHY CO-OPERATIVE STORES FAIL.

A group of New York consumers believing that the high cost of living is largely due to the high cost of selling, have organized to supply themselves with groceries. They have encountered already some of the difficulties that confront the pioneers in any field. Manufacturers will not sell to them except through wholesale houses, and some wholesale houses refuse to deal with the co-operative store for fear of prejudicing the regular grocers. With the expenses of getting started and their inability to eliminate the middleman's profit the amateur grocers confess that they are not likely to save much money the first year. And it is doubtful whether the average American's patience is likely to last more than twelve months.

In Germany and Great Britain the success of these enterprises is largely due to national habits of thrift. A Scottish or a German housewife will walk some distance to make her purchase at the co-operative store. She is ready to put up with inconvenience in complying with regular Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Clark on Elwyn avenue. The average housewife here would be likely to resent such minor rules and restrictions as a co-operative store must impose.

Organized movements among consumers in this country have not grown out of a desire to save money, but rather from a resentment against suspected exploitation. Nearly every American who protests against an over-charge feels it necessary to justify himself by remarking: "I don't care for the money, it's the principle of the thing," and he often speaks the truth in saying this. But a feeling of resentment against high prices is apt to die out just as soon as these prices fall. The eager desire to save which is a dominating motive in the lives of many Europeans, is the only thing that will carry co-operative movements to success. Some day we shall realize that the great American sin is extravagance. False pride and indifference to economic results are chargeable with a large sum in nearly every family budget. Until we recognize the prevalence of this condition co-operative groceries are not likely to succeed.—Boston Herald.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NEWS.

Last week the baseball team took a trip through Maine, playing Fort Williams of Portland Thursday, the University of Maine Friday, and Bates College in Lewiston Saturday. On this trip the team was very successful, winning from the soldiers by the overwhelming score 13 to 5; beating the University of Maine in a fast game 3 to 1; and losing to Bates after obtaining a comfortable lead, by the score 6 to 4.

The game with Fort Williams was somewhat farcical throughout on account of the self evident superiority of the New Hampshire team both in the field and at the bat. For the first time in the season did all the men on the team hit their stride. Sanborn pitched good ball for the college, while Welch, who has just been made eligible for the team, and Swasey featured in the stick work.

Before a gala crowd of junior week merry makers at Orono on Friday, New Hampshire, for the first time in four years took the measure of the fast University of Maine team on the latter's diamond. In the first inning the visitors obtained a lead of two runs, later getting one more on clean and hard hitting. Adams

EXETER LETTER

Many Interesting Items from the Academy Town.

Olive B. Lee of Dallas, Texas, was awarded $1000 by the jury Tuesday evening, after the panel had deliberated the case all night, and brought back the verdict at 3 o'clock in the early dawn. The case has been on trial since last Friday, it being an action between the question in dispute between Olive B. Lee as plaintiff, against Emma H. Abbott of Derry, the question in dispute being in the transaction of real estate in Derry which the plaintiff traded with Mr. Abbott, the allegations being that there was deceit in the deal, and by this she was deprived of some land which she had thought she was to have had. She procured the place in Derry for a summer home.

Monday there was a large number of witnesses on the stand, and quite a bit of interest prevailed. The attorneys were Eastman, Scammon and Gardner of Exeter for the plaintiff, and Burnham, Brown, Jones and Warren of Manchester for the defendant.

The regular meeting of the Gilman grange was held Monday evening at the grange hall on Elm street, the program of entertainment being a debate on the subject, "Resolved—That the New Hampshire House of Representatives should be reduced in number of members," the speakers being Stevens W. The next meeting will be held on May 20, which will be an open one, to which the public is invited, and a special musical program will be arranged.

held the game under control at all times, keeping Maine's hits well scattered, while Swasey featured the game by getting three clean hits.

Poor fielding and inability to hit the Bates pitcher at the right time cost the last game of the trip by the score 6 to 4. In the first inning New Hampshire piled up four runs against Anderson, Bates' star slug artist, but errors in the field during the latter part of the game enabled the home team to pull out the winner. Swasey again was the sensation of the game making a three-base hit over the left fielder's head, but when a hit was needed none of his team-mates could score him.

Plans for the first annual inter-scholastic track meet to be held at the college next Saturday are nearly completed. Manager DeMerritt has received a large number of entries from the preparatory schools of New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, and Massachusetts, and he has also engaged the officials for the meet. The prizes to be awarded have already been purchased and consist of silver cups for the winning team and for the individual scoring the highest number of points. Gold, silver, and bronze medals are to be awarded to the winners of first, second and third places in the individual events.

Coffee Hurt You?

No need to get mad now, tear up the paper or shout "nonsense, good coffee never hurt anyone."

You know better than that for you can point out all around you, folks who are the worse for coffee's slugging. Think over a few coffee-drinking friends and casually inquire if they are entirely and perfectly well and just how coffee treats them.

If it hurts others isn't it just possible?

Catch the drift don't you?

In fact after having studied the matter a bit it will come plain that if you are a coffee-drinker the chances are that some form of incipient or perhaps fixed organic disease due to coffee has set in—constipation, rheumatism, eye trouble, nervous headaches, nervous prostration or others of the well-proven coffee ills. One can decline to look the thing squarely in the face and peg along with the coffee.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH GETS MRS. EDDY'S MILLIONS

Supreme Court Rule That Her Gift is Valid--Important Case Settled.

Concord, N. H., May 7.—The residue of the will of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, bequeathing the residue of her estate, valued at about $2,000,000, to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, has been upheld by the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, announced today. The court holds that "residuary clause is not a gift to the church, but a gift for religious purposes sustainable as a charitable trust."

The court's decision was given in the bill in equity brought by George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., Mrs. Eddy's son, in the Merrimack County Superior Court to have the residuary clause declared invalid on the ground that it violated a New Hampshire statute limiting the amount the public good required that its which can be bequeathed to any church to a sum far below that stated. No inference can be drawn, left by Mrs. Eddy. The case was except that in the opinion of the transferred to the Supreme Court for the determination of the point of the law involved in this claim.

Glover sought, in case the residuary clause should be declared invalid, to have the residue divided between himself and Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, as the next of kin. The case must now be tried in the Superior Court, but today's decision disposes of the principal contention of the plaintiff.

In its opinion of 12,000 words the court holds that the sole request of course of the legislation of the State, the plaintiff is for advice as to his action in accordance with her teachings, is not illegal. As neither her rights, legislative reprobation found in ex-

GLOVER FILES ANSWER.

Claims That He Has Done Nothing to Warrant Trustees Withholding Income of Trust Fund.

Concord, N. H., May 7.—George W. Glover, in a document filed in the Merrimack County Superior Court today, contends that he has complied with every lawful condition of the agreement whereby his mother, Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, some time prior to her death, created a trust fund of $125,000 for the benefit of Glover and her adopted son, Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., and their families.

The document is an answer to a bill in equity brought last November by the trustees appointed by Mrs. Eddy seeking to have the court uphold their action in withholding the $3500 annual income due Glover and his family under the agreement.

The trustees are Frank S. Streeter and Irving C. Tomlinson of this city and Archibald McLellan of Boston. They claim that Glover, by bringing suit to have the Superior Court declare invalid the residuary clause of Mrs. Eddy's will, violated the terms of the trust agreement and is not entitled to further payments.

Glover, in his answer, declares that the clause in the agreement whereby he and Dr. Foster Eddy promised not to contest Mrs. Eddy's will did not apply to any "unlawful suit" she might make. He maintains that the residuary bequest violated a New Hampshire statute.

Glover's answer charges that the trustees of the $125,000 fund "and their associates have undertaken, beginning in 1892, to obtain for themselves in the name of the church 'the fortune accumulated by Mrs. Eddy.' Glover asks the court to decide that the condition of the trust deed barring him from contesting the will was null and void because intended by the plaintiffs to prevent the defendant from ascertaining in the courts the validity of legal rights claimed by him; that the existing trustees ought to be charged, 'as they are very angry with the Glover family,' and other trustees appointed, 'who will be impartial,' and that the trustees should be directed to pay during the present litigation the income due the beneficiaries."

Cincinnati, May 8.—Baseball ex-league. Early last season he was with the Reds, but was sent back to Jimmy Esmond, the Reds' young shortstop. Since the season opened more seasoning. Shortstop has been playing a sensational weak spot on the team for many years, and now that the hole is hard—in fact, his hitting has won plugged up Manager Hank O'Day several games for the Reds. This says his team will come pretty near Esmond's second time in the big capturing the flag.

the committee on high school with power.

The petition of Folsom Jenkins for a diploma on the ground that he had finished his four years course, excepting the present term, as he was obliged to leave to attend a preparatory school, to prepare for an examination to the naval academy. It was reported that he stood very high in his class and that there was no objection on the part of the class or faculty of the school. The board thought it a bad precedent but voted to allow him to take the final examination and give him a diploma, if he passed sufficient to maintain the usual average.

Re-Elected Superintendent.

Mr. James N. Pringle was unanimously re-elected superintendent of schools and given an increase of a hundred dollars in salary.

The board went on record as being highly pleased with his work, and Mr. Pringle in return agreed to give a full year's time to the schools, that is he would not consider another situation under a full year here.

An effort was made to amend the rules of the board, wherein teachers on being elected should sign an agreement to remain for the full school year. This was to prevent the great many changes that have occurred in the schools by teachers resigning in the middle of the school year to accept other positions. The motion was, however, lost by a vote of four to three.

Supt. Pringle stated that the board of health had ruled that hereafter they would not issue certificates for school children to return to school after being absent with contagious disease, only in the cases where placards were used such as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, etc., that all other cases children must procure certificates by payment or through family physicians.

Supt. Pringle also reported on the enforcement of the child labor law where it applied to children under 12 years of age.

The committee on school houses were authorized to install drinking fountains in the school buildings to conform with the state law.

It was voted to close the schools on the Wednesday preceding Memorial Day for the remainder of that week, that is give the children the Friday following Memorial Day for a vacation.

HARVEY HELD FOR UPPER COURT

Arthur M. Harvey, alias George Roberts, alias Lang, who was arrested Monday at the American Express office, charged with breaking and entering the W. A. Emerson & Sons' shoe factory at Hampstead, N. H., Saturday, Dec. 16, when the watchman was bound and gagged and the safe was blown, was taken to Hampstead from Portsmouth Tuesday morning for a preliminary hearing. The hearing was held in the office of the Emerson factory, where the robbery took place. Judge Emery of Portsmouth presided and County Solicitor Gupit directed the prosecution. Deputy Sheriff Shaw, who has been on Harvey's trail since the robbery and who was with Inspector Shannon and Patrolman Griffin Monday when the arrest was made, was the principal witness.

Judge Emery found probable cause and held Harvey in $200 bail for the October term of the superior court at Portsmouth. Harvey was taken back to Portsmouth immediately after the trial. Before leaving the temporary court room, Harvey said to a reporter: "They can never convict me on this charge."

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1912.

Next Sunday is "Mother's Day." Wear a white carnation and show your appreciation of the fact.

And the dove of peace has again settled over the college which stands in the shadow of Gen. John Sullivan's monument at Durham.

How many of our citizens realize that when they make things more attractive around their own home they are helping to beautify Portsmouth in general appearance. Don't delay, do something now.

A report comes from Londonderry that an alligator four feet long was recently caught near a brook in the pasture of Rev. H. B. Copp. The alligator, which was almost in a stupor from the cold, was fastened to a stake, but later managed to effect its escape. A search was made for it, but it could not be found. Such a report coming from a no license town seems highly incredible, but then old elder has been responsible for "snake" stories and "pink spiders" in times past in certain New Hampshire towns.

The Malden News says nothing better shows the kindness of the big heart of President Taft than his going the long journey to attend the memorial service for Major Butt in Augusta, Georgia. Many men in the midst of public cares and campaigning would have found a "reasonable excuse for not attending. But not so with President Taft. The sorrow he expressed when he learned of his devoted aid's tragic death was real and sincere and he wanted to be among his chief mourners even though he missed a few days campaigning. It was the man in him before the politician.

A writer in a Fashion Journal says the new straw derby for young ladies is said to be very dashing, and with a fresh young face is "charming." The derby should be worn with a tailored suit of white permo fabric, a wool and mohair mixture, and three white ostrich tips trim the hat. White gloves and buttoned boots of white duckskin complete the costume.
As the price for this complete outfit of feminine loveliness is not attached we shall have to delay our order for the present.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS.

Massachusetts has no doubt experienced some difficulty in making up its mind as to which candidate most nearly resembled Ralph Waldo Emerson.

An American impresario has been presented at court. Surely no one will ever again dare to question the musical culture of the United States.

The importance of the farmer in our political affairs is not to be estimated by the amount of attention claimed by the harvester business.

It may as well be conceded that the suffragettes can give as interesting and picturesque a parade as anybody.

They say more pepper is to be put into the campaign, but as the lid of the pepper box was removed some time ago, they will have to throw it in with the coal shovel.

The hours of the day are to be re-numbered at Paris from 1 to 24. This has long been necessary, as they usually sit up in Paris about twelve hours later than anywhere else.

The man who actually convinces himself that his importance to the world is such that all others must stand aside to insure his personal safety or success lacks both imagination and introspection.

A European chief of police wants criminals more severely punished. Something must be done, as the rogues are leaving the detectives no time for their literary labors.

Campaign mathematics will have to show some ingenuity if Col. Roosevelt insists that the proper presidential ratio, is three terms for himself to one for Taft.

Mr. Pinchot remains an attentive and admiring auditor in spite of the fact that Col. Roosevelt finds no opportunity to say anything about conservationism.

When a statesman has much to say about the fitness of the people to rule he incidentally feels that it is his particular duty to show them precisely how.

Marconi should supplement his wonderful achievements by the invention of some method to reduce the work of wireless operators to a reliable system.

The dark horse will probably not get further than the stable door. It begins to look as if there would be little ground for compromise between the Taft and the Roosevelt forces.

The politicians are accused of laying hands on the ark of the covenant. From the infrequency with which they attend Sunday school, we suspect they thought it was Noah's ark.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Vindication of Reciprocity
Reports from soft winter wheat states have been showing a very serious condition of the crop, and now investigators declare that almost calamitous damage has been done in Kansas. While the experts vary in their estimates, it appears that millions upon millions of bushels of the grain have been lost and that the average for the year will be far below average, with a consequence of prices much higher than even the high level of late years. At the same time the Canadian northwest sees millions of bushels of wheat that were left unharvested and abandoned to the elements because of inaccessibility to markets. The routes to ocean ports have proved inadequate to transport the yield to Europe and the international routes leading to Europe and the centers are closed by the tariff wall. If President Taft's reciprocity plan had been in force at this time the shortage on this side of the boundary line would have been relieved by the Canadian product, the waste and loss of the Canadian farmers would have turned into a profit and the consumer in the United States would have escaped the latest increase to his cost of living burden.—Detroit Free Press.

The Suffragist Parade.

The suffragist parade today is certain to prove impressive, equally because of the showing of numbers and the personnel of the paraders. When women by thousands and from all walks of life, from the drawing room, the factory, the classroom and the shop, unite in a common cause and consent to endure the fatigue and publicity of marching through the streets from devotion to a principle, their seriousness of purpose must be acknowledged. Spectators who last year came to jeer may well ponder today the extraordinary growth and development of the movement. The woman's suffrage cause has now gained its proletarian and with it the means of accomplishing results. It is no longer the pink tea and kid-glove propaganda of a few years ago, but a unified movement, the numerical strength and solidarity of which give it the status

Julia C. Lathrop, First Woman Bureau Chief Named by Taft.

Miss Julia C. Lathrop of Chicago, recently appointed by President Taft as chief of the new children's bureau in the department of commerce and labor, is the first woman to be made a bureau chief under the government. Miss Lathrop is an associate of Jane Addams in the work of Hull House, a member of the Illinois board of charity and a graduate and trustee of Vassar college. Her salary will be $5,000 a year.

He picked himself and made for the car bound for York and the rest followed. Perhaps they will learn that Conductor Stanley Scree is at home every time.

NEWINGTON CASE GOES TO THE SUPERIOR COURT

Beane Will Case Gives Up a Point of Law

The case to go on trial Tuesday morning in superior court was that of Herbert P. Dame, executor of the will of Olive M. Beane of Newington vs. Addie M. Carpins, which is a probate appeal from the codicil of the testator, which revokes a bequest of $190 to the appellant. The will involves $8,916 of personal property, and was probated at Portsmouth July 7, 1908. The allegations are undue influence in making the codicil.

In the codicil there were several who were given larger sums than mentioned in the will; May L. Hough and Nettie B. Kendall, kinsmen, are increased in their benefactions from $1200 to $5000. Wentworth Dame of Elliot, Me., a brother of the deceased, get an increase of from $1000 to $1500; Cecil F. Dame gets on increase from $100 to $300; and John F. Dame, grandnephew, is increased in his benefactions from $200 to $300, while sums of money given to Ella and Laura V. Dame are revoked, as in the appellant, Addie Carkins.

In the afternoon the case was taken from the jury and is to go to the supreme court on a protest of law.

WORD OF LOVING

A little word of loving is more to her than wealth.
A little word of tenderness is just the same as health;
It brings the bright zepes shining and it keeps the doubt away—
A little word of loving, take it home to her today!

A little word of loving mid her worry and her care,
It clears the household shadows and it sweetens married air;
It keeps the young cheeks glowing with the rose glow of loved youth—
A little word of loving is her idea of the truth!

A little word of loving lifts the shadows from her mind;
It keeps the spirit gentle and the disposition kind;
But when you say it, feel it, or she'll know—ah, yes, she will—
It's only something acted, like the tragedies that kill!

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently relieved in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and all off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad food, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple, scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 15c. & 25c.

UGH, NOT CALOMEL, OIL OR SALTS, BUT DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS,"

This wonderful fruit-laxative acts as a liver and bowel cleanser—tonic—not as an irritant. Its action is natural and gentle—no griping. It is delicious—no dredding. It is positive and prompt—no waiting.

If your stomach is sour and filled with vile gases, your head aches, or you are bilious, nervous, dizzy, half sick, your tongue coated, your thirty feet of bowels clogged with waste not properly carried off—don't wait. Surely take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight, and in the morning all constipated waste, sour bile, gases and poisons will move on and out of the system, gently but thoroughly—no griping—no nausea—no weakness. In the old days people let these matters run until they needed a large dose of physic, then they took something severe, like castor oil, salts or cathartics, that meant abuse to the bowels and natural—the days of Syrup of Figs. This way you are not drugging yourself. Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other so-called Fig Syrup is an imitation, on meant to deceive you. Refuse such with contempt.

The Herald Hears

That the suffragette parade caused a lot of talk if nothing more.

That the collier Vulcan, at the navy yard has the largest cargo ever received at the yard in one shipment.

That Judge Emery says the rails at the Portsmouth and Exeter Street railway will be used for the Citizens' Electric Railroad at Newburyport if taken up.

That the Warwick Club are still working for improvements at their quarters.

That there were four other bidders for the job.

That the Sunday carousing in the North End has decreased.

That the brand of enjoyment cost something in the superior court, at Exeter the past week.

That it is astonishing that the Franklin Pierce Association forgot their motto "get busy" on Tuesday, when a bid was not made for the New England muster for Portsmouth.

That it cannot be possible that the local vets are having a chill.

That the police are hunting for bicycle riders who use the sidewalks for speeding.

That the contract for the building of the State Industrial School for girls at Manchester has been awarded to the firm of Kennedy and Peterson of Boston for $61,248.

Floating Cannery. A new phase of scientific management has been put into operation out on our progressive Pacific coast by the conversion of the good old ship Horry of the Seas into a floating cannery of salmon. There is the whole proceedings right on one floating spot—catching, cleaning, cooking, canning, boxing and then, when the hold is full of the season's pack of cases, a tow of the factory into port and the market.

Yarn of the Deep Blue Sea. One of the most unique battles ever witnessed between creatures of the sea occurred several years ago in the Pacific. Frank Bullen, a sailor, tells of seeing a duel between a whale and an octopus. The arms of the monster were entwined about the huge head of the whale. The octopus had eyes a foot in diameter, and a head large enough to contain 350 gallons. The whale was victorious.

Proverbs Little Changed. The well-known old proverb, "One swallow does not make a spring," is indigenous to England, Germany and Russia, but in the sunny south it takes the form, "One flower does not make a garland." In Italy we find, "He who grasps all gets less," in France, "He who embraces too much blinds badly," and in Northern Europe, "Grasp all, lose all."

'Tis Often So. "I hope, sir," said the minor actor, "that I filled my part competently." "That is a consideration of no importance," replied the star. "Like the other members of the supporting cast, you are here simply to provide a comparison that will make the audience appreciate the excellence of my acting."

Pleasant for Papa. "So," said the indulgent father, "young Mr. Norvey wants to take you away from me." "O! yes," replied the dear girl, "but he says he'll bring me back after the wedding journey. He has decided that we shall board with you."—Catholic Standard and Times.

HUNDREDS IN DANGER AROUND NEW ORLEANS

Marooned On Islands By Flood Will Die of Hunger and Exposure.

New Orleans, May 7.—Unless boats and adequate food and shelter are hurried to remote sections of the heavy rains, the inundated country in Pointe a la Poudre, scores of such refugees who were Coupee Parish, it is feared hundreds brought to Morganza in the relief of persons will perish. Word was boats early today say there are but received in Morganza this morning dreds more to be taken from their that great numbers of people still flood prisons. The majority of these are marooned in the country south of people lived so far back in the country of the levee breach at Torras, that couriers did not reach them.

The lack of boats is a distressing one, in many instances, if they were handicapped. Stories of awful sufferings; warned, they scoffed at the advice to among flood refugees reached here leave.

"The levees always have held," hundreds of people living in the they argued, "why should they not 'back country' of Louisiana hold now?"

ceived no warning of the flood until. The levee above Morganza is lined the torrent swept upon them. They with people and their few belongings took refuge on house-tops and in waiting to be taken to concentration trees and on rafts, and now, after camps. About 500 were removed several days, they have been with last night to New Roads, where they were fed, then transferred to Baton Rouge.

Two hundred negroes rescued near Batchelor were brought here early today on a Government barge. They were later sent to New Roads. Fifty white people quartered at Batchelor will be brought here today.

The work of capping the Morganza levee is about completed, and now the engineers believe the dike will hold. The water in Morganza from the Torras break has spread over the entire town.

Citizens in the flood-menaced districts of New Orleans were cheered today by a bulletin issued by the weather bureau, which lowered its previous estimate of the maximum flood stage that the Crescent City must fight. The army of men working to strengthen the dikes will not cease their vigilance, however.

The maximum stage forecast for Baton Rouge and the intervening cities was raised in the bulletin. The fight to hold the mid-state levees cannot be relaxed.

A PINE TREE DISEASE.

A nation-wide investigation is about to be made by the federal department of agriculture into charges that European agriculturists are sending into this country for transplanting young white pine trees which are infected with a disease practically unknown to nursery experts. This new affliction is the "white pine blister rust." Four shipments were examined and condemned by State Nursery Inspector Dr. H. P. Fernald of the College of Agriculture at Amherst, Mass. There were 2000 trees sent here in the past week and found to contain the germs of this destroying disease.

One shipment was received in the western part of Massachusetts, one in the northeastern section and two others near Boston.

A shipment of 20,000 was received at a Connecticut port some weeks ago from France, and was immediately condemned by Dr. Britton of the Connecticut College of Agriculture, where he is the inspector of nurseries.

Dr. Fernald, who has made a careful study of this peculiar tree disease, said that this white pine blister rust is one of the most dangerous of all tree diseases with which he has yet come into contact. "If we were to permit it to once get a firm hold in this country it would mean the utter destruction of all our pines, both old and young," he declared. "I doubt very much if we could cope with this pest, as its ravages have always meant death to the affected tree. Most of the diseased trees are shipped into this country from France and Germany. I believe the situation to be due only to ignorance on the part of the European nurserymen. They insist that the trees leave the other side in perfectly healthy condition, but when we receive them here they are contaminated."

The authorities in Washington are making a vigorous inquiry into this matter, and if it is found that the shippers are at fault, legislation to further regulate the importation of all foreign plants and trees may be advocated.

Inspectors have been instructed to make a thorough examination of all shipments of trees from abroad, and to condemn and destroy all trees found or suspected of being contaminated.

Wash your clothes with

GOLD DUST

Good soap washes clothes well—if you use enough elbow grease; but Gold Dust washes them more thoroughly—and with little or no rubbing. Gold Dust saves half your time, and spares your poor back.

Another great advantage of Gold Dust—use any kind of water you like. Gold Dust softens the hardest water, and makes it soft as rain water.

Gold Dust is just a vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, with other cleansing ingredients added to make it work more thoroughly and quickly than soap ever can.

Just try Gold Dust next wash-day, and see how much time you save.

Gold Dust is sold in 50 size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

WHEN ROYALTY VISITS US

Writer Recalls Sundry Times When Various Exalted Persons Failed to Disturb Our Composure.

Writing on the visit of the Connaughts to New York, F. D. Dunne in the Metropolitan Magazine says:

"Other royal personages have looked us over in the past. The late king of England came to America before the war and must have been extremely active on his feet for at least 10,000 old ladies are still alive who danced with him. Princess Louise we always remember with respect as the first person who had the courage to speak out against the fifth and indecency of the American sleeping car of the time. We had Dom Pedro of Brazil with us for awhile. Ten years ago we were favored with the presence of Prince Henry of Prussia. Long before that came the king of the Sandwich Islands, an agreeable brown potentate with a taste for drawing to inside straight. It is so long ago that we can't recall whether the ladies of New York made themselves agreeable to him in the historic manner of the Cannibal Islands by asking him to pick an acquaintance with them, but it is a fact of history that the proprietor of a hotel in Chicago did meet him at the door and inquired whether he wouldn't like to go to his room and wash up." Under all these honors, as far as we are informed, the American public bore itself with some degree of composure, but the arrival of the duke on a purely social visit was too much for the pent-up aristocratic emotions of all sections of the population, and they received him with as great a show of fealty as though he were the reigning prince and they his sworn subjects."

GOLD SEEKERS OF LONG AGO

They Took Large Quantities of the Precious Metal From Brazil 150 Years Ago.

Alexander P. Rogers, a mining engineer who recently made an inland voyage by river from the mouth of the Amazon to Buenos Ayres, found proof that the same regions had been overrun 150 years ago by a band of adventurous goldseekers.

They were remarkably successful in their search for gold, too, and found every mine which is known today in that region.

At a mine near Matto Grosso they had brought in a small army of slaves and cleared off the jungle for a mile around, while others were set to work constructing a long ditch to bring water to the flat below. It was a clever piece of work for men without surveyors' instruments. They cut the ditch through a cement formation that in places was twenty feet deep, and near the lower end they constructed a great chamber in which they ground the ore between huge rocks. Whether they used mercury to amalgamate the gold I could not determine, but several stone tanks and sluices made me think that possibly they did. They built a town around these works with a brick kiln and a distillery as the most important adjuncts. It must have been a busy and exciting place to live in, ruled over by an iron hand, the master's word law in everything, and a cruel law it was.

They took out a large amount of gold. And then, to enjoy it, they had to get out to the civilized world with it, through 3,000 miles of hostile country, where freebooters lay in wait.

To Detect Fire Damp in Mines.

One of the simplest of the many suggested tests for fire damp in mines is that described to the Scottish Society of Arts. It is an attachment that may be applied to any oil or spirit lamp, and consists of a loop of copper wire supported on a brass rod passing through the oil vessel. To make a test the loop is moved into the flame. This becomes instantly nonluminous, but if fire damp is present in the air the gas cap is clearly seen. The test can be made in a moment, at any time, without turning down or putting out the light. It is claimed that the percentage of fire damp (this method will detect) is exceedingly small, and the results of trials in both laboratory and mine go to show that this is one of the most sensitive, accurate, and expeditious means of revealing the presence of inflammable gas in mine or other air.

Plan to Make Rome Seaport.

The latest project to make Rome a seaport is to lay out a port 35 feet deep near Castel Fusaro, formed by running two jetties out into the sea for some distance, as at the port of Ymuiden, Holland. From the port will lead a ship canal 15 miles long and 200 feet wide and 27 feet deep. At Rome shipping accommodations will be laid out in the river below the city, and this will be connected with the navigable part of the Tiber by a system of locks. It will cost about $15,000,000 to carry out the project. Opponents of the idea claim it will not pay, but the promoters affirm that when once the city is connected with the Mediterranean there will result a great amount of traffic.

Refutation Tours.

"People are very likely to believe what they see in print." "Yep," replied Farmer Cornloss. "That's why those candidates have to keep travelin' around the country so much. They have to prove that they don't look like some of the pictures of 'em that get into the papers."

Girl's Accurate Rifle Shot.

A very pretty exhibition of marksmanship was witnessed by a crowd in the vicinity of the post office in Venice, Colo., the other day. One of the halyards attached to a flag on a high pole of a riding device snapped and the flag and halyard twisted themselves into the pulley in such a way that it was impossible to get the flag down. The manager offered $25 to anyone who would get the flag down. An Indian girl overheard him and procured her rifle. From where she stood to where the flag was flying from the pole was fully 300 feet. The pulley was so well concealed by the flag that only a small piece of the top of the eyelet was visible. Carefully sighting, the girl fired and the first shot cut the pulley from the pole and sent the flag flying down.

To the Letter.

A woman caught smuggling hanged herself in her room, leaving a copy of "Science and Health" open on the table with the words "Sin is suicide" underlined. Another example of the power of words. The words, the bare words, seemed everything. What they meant became as nothing compared with what they said. What do they mean, anyway? "Sin is suicide." Suicide is sin. It works backward or forward. Whatever they mean, they were certainly not intended to suggest that because somebody has done wrong he ought to kill himself, which is the way the thing got into this poor woman's brain. Wonderful and mysterious is the force of the printed word!

Sacrificed to "Black Goddess."

A horrible case of human sacrifice resulted in sentence of death being passed at Mirzapur, southern India, recently, on a Hindu named Raghunandan. A party of Hindu girls was gathering firewood in the forest one day, when the man rushed at them, knocked one of them down, and drove the others away. He picked his victim up and carried her, screaming, to a pit which he had dug. Crying three times, "Hail, Mahabir! Hail, Black Goddess! Behold your sacrifice!" he thrust the girl into the pit, rolled stones upon her, and covered her with earth. When the victim's parents arrived the Hindu had filled in the pit and was trampling down the earth. The girl was dead.

London Street's Literary Associations.

Leadenhall street, which is to be widened, was so called from the lead-roofed mansion of Sir Hugh Neville, which the city acquired for a court of justice. Few London streets possess more interesting literary and historical associations. Here Peter Motteux, the translator of "Don Quixote," kept "an East India shop," and Gibbon's great-grandfather "did not aspire above the station of a linen draper in Leadenhall street." East India House, where Charles Lamb and the two Mills were clerks, stood on the north side of the street, and 156 and 157 occupy the site where the little midshipman in "Dombey and Son" used to hang.—Westminster Gazette.

Wreaths for Fallen Aviators.

The French officers belonging to the aviation corps are so daring, and the risks so great that they take in their effort to perfect themselves in this new art, that accidents have been far more numerous than the outside world dreams. Recently the head of the department informed the military aviators that hereafter the sum of half a franc would be deducted from their pay in order to buy wreaths for the graves of those who lose their lives in the fulfillment of their duty. Hereafter each officer has simply contributed toward this tribute, but the loss of life has been so fearful that it has been decided to set aside a certain amount for this purpose.

Record of Talk Over Phone.

Telephone conversation is likely to play an important part in lawsuits and criminal action at law with the perfecting of an apparatus by means of which a permanent record can be kept of the words spoken over the telephone. The improved telephone receiver is composed of two loud speaking telephones; one of these is furnished with the usual mouthpiece, the other is connected with the vibrating membrane of phonograph. The current required for this telephone is a little greater than for ordinary installation. The phonograph record can be made to reproduce the speech.

Important Point Forgotten.

Charles Frohman was talking to a Philadelphia reporter about the importance of detail. "Those who work for me," he said, "follow my directions down to the very smallest item. To go wrong in detail, you know, is often to go altogether wrong—like the dissipated husband. A dissipated husband, as he stood before his house in the small hours searching for his latchkey, muttered over and over to himself: 'Now, which did my wife say—hic—have two whiskies an' get home by twelve, or—hic—have twelve whiskies an' get home by two?'"

Cruel and Unusual.

"Three months," said the judge. "Your honor," howled the lawyer, "can't you mitigate the severity of that sentence? Would you send a beautiful actress to jail for three months?" "Three months is very light for shooting a man." "But, judge, you don't understand. In three months the actor will have been forgotten, and then my client will be a first in vaudeville."

SUPT. FOSGATE TO MAKE IMMEDIATE REPORT

Work of Tearing up Rails of Portsmouth and Exeter Road is Deferred

Superintendent Frank P. Fosgate of the Portsmouth street railroad and the spokesman of the citizens' committee from Stratham, Exeter and Greenland and this city, held a conference with President Mellen in Boston this Wednesday morning regarding the operating of the Portsmouth and Exeter street railroad.

As the result of the conference Mr. Fosgate was instructed to make a report at once as to what repairs were needed and as to cost of operating the road.

Mr. Mellen assured the representative of the citizen's committee that he would give an answer as to what could be done not later than Tuesday of next week.

Owing to the negotiations now in progress President Belden has notified the committee that no attempt will be made to take up the rails before some time next week.

It was learned today that a party of Rhode Island capitalists accompanied by former Superintendent McReel of the Exeter and Hampton road made an inspection of the road on Tuesday.

It is said that the owners of the road are willing to dispose of it if a purchaser can be found.

The outcome of the negotiations now in progress is eagerly awaited by the people living along the line in the several towns through which the road passes.

Bertha, her husband and the three Chins are not on speaking terms just at present. On Tuesday night Mrs. Robasky was washing her floor overhead when some of the water leaked through the cracks on the queue of Toy and also struck one or more of the shirts on the ironing board. Toy with his bodyguard declared war right off quick and the whole Chin outfit rushed up stairs in two jumps. Mrs. Robasky tried to explain, but it was no use, the Chin firm could not be convinced that the automatic sprinklers were not turned on on purpose to spray his laundry. One of the Chins had a big stick and he shook it in her face with some threatening words. Mrs. Robasky had business suspended down stairs for several hours, after hunting up the police who captured the whole bunch on a warrant. The rest of the night will be continued in police court this afternoon.

HERE IS A CHANCE FOR RED SHIRTS TO GET BUSY

It's a fact that the New England League meet at Providence on Tuesday went begging for a place to hold a muster this year. It is hard to account for such a condition with representatives of the Franklin Pierce Association on the grounds.

Never before since the organization here became a part of the league have the gallant red shirts been so unconcerned in this big event. At one period of its existence the spirit was at a high pitch and musters could not come too thick for our boys.

What has become of Captain Muchmore with his crew that refused to be separated from the old machine. Has he retired from hand tub circles for good? Now that the big show cannot be pulled off, why not have a live local emulation between the Gimblet Club with the T. W. Priest, the Eureka in the hands of the regular Veterans and the stalwart crew of Captain Muchmore on the brakes of the old Franklin Pierce.
